

Wish List

The items on this list describe essential programs & services that Boost provides to children and youth who have been abused. Please help us make a difference by making a donation to one of the items listed below.

Children and youth who are victims of abuse or violence need immediate intervention to recover. Often long waiting list exists and children continue to suffer needlessly. As little as $1,000 will allow one child to receive immediate service and help put them on the road to recovery.

Cost: $1,000 for counselling per child

Testifying in court can be a frightening experience, even for adults. Everyday across Canada, children as young as 4 years old are expected to take the stand in courtrooms, face their offenders and tell intimate details about how they were abused. Unless support and preparation are provided, this experience can be as traumatizing than the crime they experienced. With preparation and support, children learn what to expect and how to manage the stress of testifying in court.

Cost: $500 per child

When a child comes to Boost for the first time, he or she often feels anxious and frightened. We give every child a "care package" that includes our stuffed toy mascot, Cory the Court Dog, a handmade quilt or knit blanket and cloth tote bag. It is hard to imagine how such a small gift can have such a significant impact on a child but it does. A care package goes a long way to reassure a child that we are a helping place that is focused solely on his or her needs and concerns.

Cost: $100 per child
